FOREWORD

Another school term is fast advancing toward the end, and another volume of The Chief has found its way to the press. It is a tribute to education and we sincerely hope that the efforts put forth to make this book an interesting one have not been in vain. We hope that as the eyes of memory grow dim you may look again through the pages of this yearbook and recall vividly the memorable events of school days.

We wish to express our appreciation to those who have aided in making this book possible. We ask of you only to bear all due consideration to our lack of ability.

CLASS PHILOSOPHY

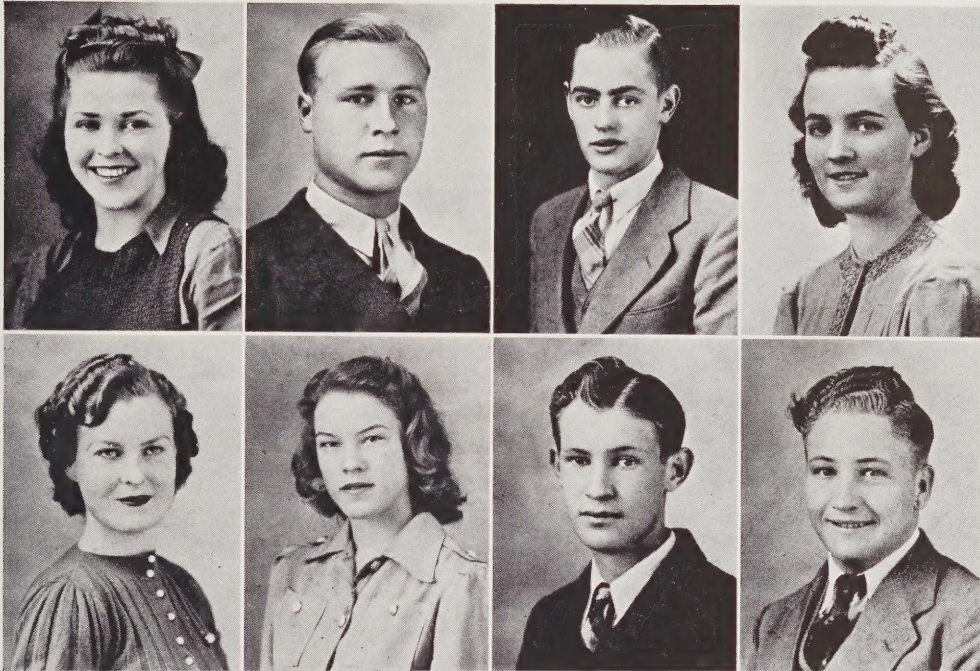

Here's to the class of '41—
None of our work is ever done,
But the happy hours we've spent together
Make up for the days of stormy weather.
Adieu, our teachers.

Soon we'll leave these old ivied walls,
The basketball courts and empty halls,
Which side by side we've often tread
With lagging feet and empty head.
(Strange but true.)

When we our last days here, have spent,
Each one we'll follow his natural bent;
Some will doctors, nurses, lawyers be,
While others teach across the sea
In foreign fields.

Success, perhaps, is not for all,
For by the wayside some may fall
Who failed in willingness to grasp
The lessons taught them in the past
At Etowah High.

But when our locks are silvery gray,
And former friends have passed away,
And life has yielded its full measure;
These days we'll think of then with pleasure
Until the end, my classmates.

CLASS PROPHECY

By J. B. LAUGHTER, Class Prophet

Time staggers on—1941, 1942, 1943, 1944—and as the years pile up on us and our gray hairs increase, the Class of '41 is drifting to all points of the country and doing different things.

Cecil Cairnes has just published a book by the name "Live Alone and Be Glad of the Chance." He is known as Chicago's most eligible bachelor. As a hobby he has taken up writing a column in "The Chicago Times" called "Advice to Lonely Hearts."

Nora Lee Allen is in Hollywood acting as stand-in to Fannie Brice in her famous "Baby Snooks" skit on the air. She has founded a home for orphan children.

Ralph Jones, Jr., broke the world record by making the highest jump on skis. He is in training for the Olympics in Germany for the next season.

Coy Dalton is serving his apprenticeship in Chicago as a tailor. He also spends some time modeling men's sport clothes.

Hamilton Boyd was noticed by an artist when he won a "handsome bachelors" contest and is now employed as a professional model.

Dr. T. Palmer Drake, M. D., M. A., and F. B., is convalescing at his country estate on Big Willow after a year of research work in Africa. Before his European training he was a graduate of Etowah High School.

A talent scout happened to be in the audience of the Senior Class play of '41 and signed Maxine Hollingsworth for a ten-year contract with Warner Bros. She is now starring in a picture entitled "Flames of Death."

Two of Denver, Colorado's, most prominent social leaders are W. Glenn and J. Bruce Laughter. They own the Laughter-Simpson Funeral Home. Their slogan is "Bring Your Stiffs to Our Slabs."

Mrs. William McKinna, who, throughout her high school career was center of the spotlight, is now employed as trainer for basketball players in Los Angeles. Prior to her marriage she was Wanda Anders of Davis Station.

Wade Laughter is now in the "wild and wooly" jungles of South America, where he is employed as a civil engineer. In his spare time he has been collecting a variety of wild animals for pets.

On graduating from high school, Ellis Garren joined the U. S. Army to do his bit for Uncle Sam. He has now reached the rank of corporal and is persistently climbing. He is stationed in Seattle, Washington.

Ruth Stamey, the class historian of '41, has published her latest book and received universal acclaim. The name of the novel is "The Balfour Story."

Times haven't dealt so hard with Gene Allen. She now has a thirty-minute broadcast over the NBC network daily. She is sponsored by "Willette Bazor Blades," with the six delicious shavers.

Clyde Allison is now employed as head waiter in the very popular "Brown Derby" in Hollywood. Critics say that he is seen around town with the up-and-coming R. K. O. starlet, Judy O'Garland.

Miss Maudina Bell studied photography on graduating from Etowah High School and is now owner of Bell's Studio. Her slogan is, "Don't Blame Us if Your Picture Aren't Good, Just Look in a Mirror."

Hamilton Hollingsworth and Joyce McKinna are joint owners of the McKinna and Hollingsworth Garage. Hollingsworth is mechanic and McKinna handles the office.

Thelma Allison has resumed her former name after an unsuccessful marriage to society's "Charles Von Zell." She is now a student nurse at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

The gods have lavishly bestowed their gifts and graces on Freda Marona, our class poetess. She is not only a poetess but has unusual musical ability. Although like Greta Garbo she "likes to be alone," she is very popular with both sexes.

Opal Dalton, after graduation at Etowah, majored in farming and now she and Ray are known as the "Master Farmers" of the French Broad Valley, he having resigned his position with the Coca-Cola Company to assist her.

Each student of the Class of '41 has reached or will have reached their place in the world, whether it be the high road or low road. As we keep up with them through time, we say, either boastfully or with regret, "They were my classmates at Etowah High School."

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class of Etowah High School, being of sounder mind than when we entered school, and realizing that we are soon to go forth from the sheltering arms of our beloved Alma Mater; and wishing to perpetuate our accomplishments and achievements therein, and desiring to pass on to those who follow us our most cherished attainments, individually and collectively, do declare this to be our Last Will and Testament:

As a Class, we give and bequeath our love and loyalty to Etowah High School, and our deepest respect to the Faculty with the hope that at some time in the future they may again have as perfect a set of seniors as we, with a record that equals ours of near-perfect attendance.

The following individual bequests are made in the hope that our individual characteristics will be perpetuated and impregnated deep in the memories of those who are our successors.

Item 1. I, Gene Allen, give and bequeath my scholastic honors and soothing voice to Vera Allison, hoping that she may sing others to sleep in the future as I have done in the past.

Item 2. I, Nora Lee Allen, give and bequeath my baby voice and French accent to Margie Merrell.

Item 3. I, Thelma Jane Allison, give and bequeath my loquaciousness and boisterousness to Stella Allison.

Item 4. I, Clyde Allison, give and bequeath my noble physique and charming manner with women, to Billy Arrington so that he may use the same to marry rich as I hope to do.

Item 5. I, Maudina Bell, give and bequeath my ability in designing to Julia Davis and may she be a better designer than I believe she will be.

Item 6. I, Coy Dalton, give and bequeath my curly hair and school-girl complexion to Frazier Sentelle.

Item 7. I, Opal Dalton, give and bequeath my spinster ways to Vera Allison.

Item 8. I, Maxine Hollingsworth, give and bequeath my taxicab to Nancy Lee Wright.

Item 9. I, Hamilton Hollingsworth, give and bequeath my skill as an agronomer to Bill McKinna.

Item 10. I, Wanda Anders, give and bequeath my love of housekeeping and feminence to Flossie Metcalf.

Item 11. I, Hamilton Boyd, give and bequeath my Robert Taylor features to D. C. Banks and name him as my successor to deliver candy.

Item 12. I, Cecil Cairnes, give and bequeath my ways with the ladies and my French culture to George Moffitt.

Item 13. I, Palmer Drake, give and bequeath my hitch-hiking thumb and skill in marbles to Cecil Morgan.

Item 14. I, Ellis Garren, give and bequeath my athletic skill in churning to Buster Buckner.

Item 15. I, Wade Laughter, give and bequeath my wood-chopper's axe and my ceaseless energy to Harold Huggins.

Item 16. I, J. B. Laughter, give and bequeath my somnambulism (sleepiness) to Ulysses Nelson.

Item 17. I, Ralph Jones, Jr., give and bequeath my procrastination and pyromania to Paul Moffitt. May he too be a philosopher (lover of wisdom) as I have been.

Item 18. I, Joyce McKinna, give and bequeath my ambition toward the stars (Hollywood) to Mildred Whiteside.

Item 19. I, Freda Marona, give and bequeath my dignified bearing, my artistic instinct, and pulchritude to Mary Alice Merrell.

Item 20. I, Glenn Simpson, give and bequeath my ability to work full time at the brick yard and attend school at the same time to my brother, Marvin Simpson.

Item 21. I, Ruth Stamey, give and bequeath my meticulousness (carefulness), my home-making instinct, and my athletic prowess to Mary Prince.

We hereby appoint our beloved friend and counselor, Grady Allison, executor of this will.

Signed, sealed, published and declared by the said Senior Class to be their Last Will and Testament, who at their request and in their presence and in the presence of one another do subscribe our names as witnesses thereto.

RUNNER-UP CANTON GOLD MEDAL TOURNAMENT CONSOLATION WINNER HENDERSON COUNTY

The girls' basketball team had a very successful season. They had a record of twelve straight wins before entering the Canton tournament. They succeeded in going to the finals by defeating Webster, Canton, and Waynesville teams before losing to Bethel in the finals.

In the Henderson County tournament the team defeated Fletcher, lost to Edneyville in the semi-finals, and later defeated Flat Rock in the consolation.

Several members of the team received outstanding recognition for their stellar work. Stamey and Anders were selected on the All-Star team at Canton. Dalton placed on the second team. Anders won a medal for the third outstanding player in the tournament. In the Henderson County tournament Dalton and Stamey were selected on the first team and Anders on the second team.

The team this year will lose six members by the graduation route.

The boys' team this season was very successful, winning a majority of their games. The competition was very good, and considering the fact that the team was new and the limited facilities that they had for practice, the season was a success.

CAPT. SIMPSON

Hopes for next year are running high. This optimism is based on the fact that many veterans are returning and some excellent material is being sent up from Coach Evans' midget team.
